Dear Mr Harland,

We are concerned not to have received a reply from you to our letter of 21st June 2017. Was this perhaps an administrative oversight, such that your reply was written but accidentally not sent?

Aside from reading your detailed response to our whole letter, we particularly wish, with some urgency, to know whether you referred on our complaint against ASA and, if so, to whom? And if you did not refer it on, we must of course ask you why not?

There remains also outstanding our unanswered question from 27th April:

‘Are you [in the light of all the problems with ASA Ltd which we brought to your attention] satisfied that your close association with ASA is ethically suitable?’

Once again, we look forward to your detailed response.

Yours sincerely,

Paul Burnett,
(and others redacted)
